Online Insurance Software Provider Announces New Website and Brand Name QSEMCI™.

CARROLLTON, TX (PRWEB) March 2, 2006 — Quantum Integrated Systems, Inc., a pioneer in on-line insurance software, announces the release of its' new website, as well as the branding of its' flagship product QSEMCI™.

“Quantum has blazed the trail for online insurance software for many years, and now we’re taking it to the next level,” Mark Van Horn, President, said.

QSEMCI™ is a web-based, risk-qualifying, template underwriting, and real-time comparative quoting business application software developed for the property and casualty commercial lines insurance industry. It is a web-based quoting system that allows a Licensee a means of gathering insured information and providing multiple quotes with a single entry.

QSEMCI™ is capable of rating from any carrier offering web quoting, XML, Ivans, or from a local rating engine. The technology can even screen scrape a carrier's website.

About Quantum:
